HERD OWNERS BRING CREDIT TO PUTNAM CO.

OWNERS SUCCESSFUL IN ERADICATING BANGS
DISEASE
CLEAN IN ALL TESTS

State Plan Which Went Into Effect July 1 Provides Four Inspections

Forty-six herd owners in Putnam county have jointly brought to the attention of the state because of the fact that these Putnam men have had eradicated the much-feared bangs, or abortion, disease from their herds. The number thus qualifying is unusually large for a county the size of Putnam.

These forty-six owners now have had their herds shown clean records in all of the last four successive inspections given their cattle for traces of the disease. It means they had no abortions in the past year. The new state plan in regard to bang tests went into effect July 1. It, the owners agree to have at least four tests made and also agree to have the animals that react appear and to be disinfected the premises.

The secretary of the association has to pay the owners of reacting animals "provided federal funds are available, for each animal, except unregistered bulls, slaughtered in accordance with this agreement, not more than one-third of the difference between the appraised value of such animal and the salvage value thereof, not more than $25 for a grade animal, or not more than $50 for a registered purebred animal." There are other details of the payment plan, also.

The owners of these accredited herds in Putnam county are Hubert Grafton, Grafton Longden, McKenney, Ferrand, Harry Stickle, Emory, Leland, Ryan A. Cline, Ralph, Dolby Collins, H. C. Thomas J. Tuttle, Lowell A. Thomas, W. F. Surber, Leonard V. Surber, W. McGaughey, Clyde Cash, Shonkewiler, Paul Hoffa, E. R. Goss, Theodore Routt, Ora Cooper, Lloyd Hall, Geo. A. Bring Prisoner
From St. Louis

MAKES TRIP FOR AL-LEGED AUTOMOBILE
THIEF

John T. Sutherland and C. Sutherland went to St. Charles, Mo., this morning, to bring to this city Clifford Sutherland, arrested by the Missouri state police officers for the alleged theft of an automobile owned by Mr. Sutherland. He operates the filling station on "Y" east of the city, at the intersection of the Stilesville road and National road, two miles east of Stilesville. Burnell went to bring home the automobile, which had been recovered by the Missouri state police. The automobile was understood here, was at the barracks near St. Louis.

A warrant filed in the Putnam county court charges Barthlow with taking of the car, but does not contain details, excepting that the alleged theft occurred Monday.

Arrest of Barthlow was due to a broadcasting over the police of the description of the car and means of identifying the car. He was charged with its theft. He is a '35 Chevrolet valued at $200.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 19.—(UP)—Al G. Feeney, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for the Sheriff's nomination who demanded a recount of the ballots, gained an additional 34 votes yesterday, raising his margin to 159 votes over Charles Lutz, formerly declared the victor by the canvassing board which had given him 2,255 votes over Feeney.

Fifty-six precincts remain to be counted by the recount board.

Townsend Wants 3-Point Program

OUTLINES PLAN IN ADDRESS TO OPENING SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

INDIANAPOLIS, July 19 (UP)—Gov. M. Clifford Townsend, speaking before a joint session of the Indiana senate and house of representatives, which convened today in special session, asked the legislators to enact a three-point "relief and recovery" program.

He recommended that the assembly: (1) provide funds for needed public construction, (2) equalize the property tax load further, and (3) consider amendments to the motor vehicle title-holder law.

To expedite these matters, he expressed the hope "that you will confine your consideration to this special session to the imperative task at hand."

Total cost of the building program, Townsend said, would be $10,730,000, of which the federal government would pay $5,430,000 and the state $9,300,000. He explained that the state's share would be less than that of the WPA because the state is assuming only 30 per cent of construction costs at the four state colleges and the colleges will make up the difference.

The legislature was asked to appropriate an additional $2,000,000 from the state treasury to aid counties in paying the costs of poor relief.

Of the controversial windshield "gadget" law, Townsend said: "I feel that if it is unsatisfactory in any way, it should be amended. That is the Democratic way to operate government."

Explaining that Indiana may well afford to cooperate with the federal government in the recovery program because of a $24,500,000 balance in the treasury, Townsend said: "Statistics of the State Board of Accounts over a long period of years show that expenditures for public improvements are an essential part of the state's prosperity. In other words, money expended by government has a direct and beneficial influence upon the general prosperity of the community."

The building program, he said, falls into several separate classifications, first of which is needs at the mental hospitals.

"The mental hospitals are overcrowded," he said. "Many of the buildings are obsolete, and one dormitory has been condemned as unsafe. Eight thousand patients are crowded into five mental hospitals which are built to accommodate no more than 7,500 patients. That means the mental hospitals already are overcrowded by 500."

Charges WPA In Primary Battle

MISSOURI GOVERNOR SAYS
RELIEF FUNDS AIDING PENDERGAST

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 19.—(UP)—Gov. Lloyd C. Stark charged today that the WPA was taking sides in his bitter feud with Thomas J. Pendergast, boss of the Democratic party in Missouri.

The feud had been crystallized in a contest for the Democratic nomination for Supreme court justice, which will be settled by voters Aug. 2.

Gov. Stark charged that the WPA was "intimidating workers to vote against Judge James M. Douglas."

"Workers on the WPA rolls have been threatened with the loss of their jobs unless they go down the line for Judge James V. Billings," he said.

Stark protested to WPA headquarters at Washington. No action has been taken except for Administrator Harry Hopkins' warnings to WPA officials to steer clear of politics.

HOT MONTANA PRIMARY NOW CRUCIAL TEST

JERRY J. O'CONNELL STAKES
POLITICAL LIFE ON OUTCOME

BUCKS WHEELER MACHINE

Claims Strong Roosevelt Backing in Bid for Renomination; Opposition Strong

HELENA, Mont., July 19.—(UP)—Rep. Jerry J. O'Connell staked his political life on his record as a New Dealer today in the primary election.

"President Roosevelt told me," O'Connell said in completing his campaign for Democratic renomination, "to go out there and fight like hell to defeat Wheeler's machine so he wouldn't be back in 1940."

By "Wheeler's machine" O'Connell referred to the political organization of Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, leader in the fight against President Roosevelt's Supreme court reorganization proposal, and of Gov. Roy E. Ayers. O'Connell's opponent in today's balloting is Payne Templeton, former president of the Montana Education Association who has advanced a more conservative platform than O'Connell. Wheeler issued a statement in which he vowed that he or his supporters were behind Templeton. Ayers has endorsed Templeton.

Sen. James E. Murray, substituting for Gov. Elmer Benson of Minnesota who previously had been scheduled to deliver a speech in favor of O'Connell, said last night at a rally in Butte:

"Repudiation of O'Connell's would be repudiation of Mr. Roosevelt. It is our duty to stand loyally behind Mr. Roosevelt and the men who stand behind him."

BREAK UP STRIKE

NORTH CHICAGO, Ill., July 19.—(UP)—Fifty deputy sheriffs dispersed 500 pickets at the strike-bound Chicago Hardware Foundry company today with tear and sickening gas.

The pickets had ignored orders to break their cordon within five minutes.

The attack lasted 30 minutes and when it was over the sheriff's men controlled the factory gate for the first time since June 6, when the C. I. O. Union called a strike in protest against a 10 per cent wage cut.

Stand Pipe Now 'Standing' Again

WATER AGAIN IN TANK AFTER WORKMEN COMPLETE
REPAIRS

Greencastle's stand pipe was filling rapidly today after workmen cleaned and repaired the base of the city landmark.

Water was turned back into the tank about 9 o'clock last night. Workmen used torches to weld the plates at the base where a leak was discovered while the pipe was being drained for cleaning.

Workmen found a surprisingly small amount of sediment in the tank in light of the fact that it had not been drained for some time.

Pressure in the city's water system was maintained directly from the plant north of here yesterday during the draining and repair work.

A tap was open on Seminary street as a precaution against too much pressure in the lines and as a compensator against pump pulsation.

J. R. Rominger Dies On Tuesday

ISON TOWNSHIP PASSED

Mr. Rominger had been a resident of Madison township for the last twenty years and was well known in that community.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Nettie Rominger, five children, Mrs. Charles Finley and Roy Rominger of Peoria, Ill.; Mrs. Charles Evans of Michigan City; Floyd Rominger of Anderson and Mrs. Fred Bardwell of Pekin, Ill.; and five brothers.

The body was brought to the McCurry funeral home where funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Astounds World by Spanning Ocean in "Crate"

Astounding the world by making a solo flight across the Atlantic in a $900 single-engine plane of 1929 vintage, Douglas Corrigan, 31-year-old flyer-mechanic from California, landed at Dublin, Ireland, after flying 3,100 miles in 28 hours 13 minutes. On taking off from Floyd Bennett field, he announced that he was returning to California but instead headed eastward. Corrigan's transatlantic flight followed a non-stop hop across the United States.

Work Starts On Alpha Phi House

ALUMNI VIEW PREPARATIONS
AT HANNA AND LOCUST
STREETS

Construction work on the new house of the DePauw chapter of Alpha Phi was started Monday, with preliminary excavation of the basement. The house will be situated on the south east corner of the intersection of Locust and Hanna streets.

Alumni who viewed the groundbreaking were Mrs. Walter W. Talley, the former Edna Frances Sweeley, of Terre Haute and Mrs. James C. Carter, the former Eunice Roper of Indianapolis.

Workers started removing construction stone from the foundation of the old home which was razed this spring in preparation for constructing the new building.

The Alpha Phi house, when finished, will be the last addition to DePauw's "sorority row," a solid block of houses from Hanna to Elm street. Nathaniel Owings, Chicago, is the contractor for Alpha Phi. The house, expected to entail an expense of approximately $30,000 will be in the Williamsburg colonial type.

The chapter and alumni hope the house will be ready for occupation not later than Christmas.

VOTE HOLIDAY

The members of the Putnam County Bar Association have voted themselves an additional half-day holiday each week, beginning July 20 and continuing the arrangement until September 21. This new half-day vacation will come on Wednesdays. Some time ago, the attorneys selected Saturday afternoons as holiday times, and they will continue to observe that half-day as a period of rest and recreation indefinitely, but at the Wednesday half-holidays will be in effect only between the dates stated.

Wrong Way Flier Hints Long Way Back Right Way

IRISHMAN CORRIGAN DECLARES PLANE GOOD ENOUGH FOR WORLD TRIP

BUBLIN, July 19.—(UP)—Douglas Corrigan's $900 monoplane, the most inexpensive craft that ever was flown across the Atlantic was returned to him today by Irish customs authorities, who had detained it for several hours.

WASHINGTON, July 19 (UP)—The Department of Commerce cancelled the experimental license of Douglas G. Corrigan today to prevent him attempting a westward flight across the Atlantic Ocean.

DUBLIN, July 19 (UP)—Douglas Corrigan, discussing his $900 transatlantic airplane today as he considered his plans for the immediate future, commented:

"She's good enough to fly round the world."

The American hero of the world-record wrong direction flight, after a night as the guest of American minister John Cudahy under an informal state of "open detention" because he landed here from New York without a passport or other required papers, had expressed doubt earlier that he would try to fly back.

But as he made his casual remark about his plane's round the world capabilities, some interviewers thought they detected the gleam of a daring idea in his eyes.

For the moment, Corrigan planned to spend a couple of days looking at the country, while Irish officials communicated with American authorities as to his status. For officially, he did not exist and should be in Los Angeles, 6,000 miles away, toward which he still insisted he thought he was flying for hours after he left Floyd Bennett Field in New York Sunday morning.

Corrigan's exploit continued to be a sensation in Ireland and Great Britain.

British newspapers smashed the story as the main one of the day and subordinated it to the historic state visit of the King and Queen to France—the first such visit of a British monarch since the late King George V went to France a few weeks before the World War.

DUBLIN, July 19 (UP)—Douglas Corrigan, was notified today that Irish customs officials had detained

Nationals Fire British Vessel

S. S. STANLAND TARGET IN BOMBING RAID OVER
VALENCIA

VALENCIA, July 19.—(UP)—The British freighter Stanland was bombed and set afire today by five nationalist airplanes in a raid over Valencia port at 9 a. m. but there were no victims.

In two earlier raids on Valencia Nationalist planes destroyed several houses but there were no victims. In a raid on Algira, south of Valencia, one person was killed and seven injured.

The Stanland was alongside the quay discharging cargo when a rain of heavy bombs dug huge craters capable of holding a score of persons within a radius of 200 yards.

One bomb struck a part of the cargo which had been set ashore, igniting the ship 10 feet away. The fire spread quickly to the bridge and members of the crew and dock workers spent several hours putting it out. It was badly damaged.

George VI, Queen On French Visit

GOOD-WILL TOUR SYMBOLIC OF FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN NATIONS

PARIS, July 19.—(UP)—King George VI and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain came to France today for a state visit of friendship over the route of the khaki clad British Tommies who came 20 years ago to help turn back the German invasion and to enrich the soil of France with their blood.

It was a visit designed to show the close and intimate relations of two countries whose destinies were linked as allies in perforce. It was a warning of caution to other powers of Europe, as was the last state visit of a British monarch to France in 1914, a few weeks before outbreak of the world war.

For four days the British royal couple will be the honored guests of President Albert Lebrun, the cabinet and the people of France, welcomed as allies and friends.

During that time Foreign Minister George Bonnet and Viscount Halifax, British Foreign Secretary, will hold a series of diplomatic negotiations designed to cement the entente between the neighbor democracies.

LEGISLATURE OPENS; WILL PASS RELIEF

TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS FOR $11,000,000 BUILDING
PROGRAM

TO CUT DOWN RELIEF LOAD

Legislators Expect To Pass Four
Major Bills; Stein, Schricker
Preside

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 19.—(UP)—A special session of the 80th Indiana Legislature convened at 10 a. m. today to appropriate funds for an $11,000,000 state building program, divert $2,000,000 from the state treasury to help counties pay the costs of poor-relief and amend the controversial windshield title-holder certificate law.

Summoned by Gov. M. Clifford Townsend to enact a "relief and recovery" program, the legislators were expected to pass four major bills as speedily as possible and then adjourn.

The House was called to order by Speaker Ed Stein of Bloomfield while Lieut. Gov. Henry F. Schricker, president of the Senate, presided in the upper chamber. Shortly after convening, the two houses met in joint session to hear Gov. Townsend's special message.

As finally decided upon by administration leaders, the building program will total $10,816,994, of which the state will furnish $5,400,934. The remainder will come from the Public Works Administration except for small amounts to be furnished by the four state colleges, Purdue and Indiana universities, Ball State Teachers and Indiana State Teachers.

Total appropriations of the special session will amount to about $7,500,000, including the $2,000,000 relief allocation and about $20,000 for expenses of the assembly.

Democratic and Republican members of both houses met in caucus last night and made final plans for the session.

Democratic Senators elected Sen. E. Curtis White of Indianapolis speaker pro-tempore to succeed Thurman A. Gottschalk, who resigned to become state welfare director. Democrats in both the House and Senate pledged themselves to enact the governor's program as quickly as possible without considering any other legislation.

Republicans, however, served notice of a rebellion that probably will not materialize because of the large Democratic majority in both chambers.

The G. O. P. members demanded that Sen. Frederick Van Nuys, who was renominated by the Democratic state convention last week following a swift peace parley, be asked to appear before the assembly and explain charges he made before the reconciliation that the statehouse organization was "corrupt and graft-ridden."

Sen. William E. Jenner of Paoli, Republican floor leader, was to introduce the resolution, asking Gov. Townsend to invite Van Nuys to the assembly.

The Republicans also voted to introduce legislation to change the state liquor laws by abolishing the beer port-of-entry system. Neither of these moves was expected to gain much headway.

Republican legislators, however, agreed to go along with the administration on the institutional building program although no definite projects or amounts were approved.

Sen. White, president of the state Board of Agriculture, was elected speaker pro tem after Sen. Frederick Elchorn of Gary, his opponent, withdrew. Sen. Jesse E. Wade of Mount Vernon was named caucus chairman to succeed White and Arthur Gadbury of Hartford City

LOCAL PERSON RECEIVES MUCH PRIZED GIFT

A few days ago there was delivered to Pearl M. Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Young of this city, a copy of the book, "Supervision in German Elementary Education." The donor and author is Miss Clara Stratemeyer, Ph.D., of Columbia university, New York City.

The book is much-prized by Miss Young, not only because of the close friendship of the author, but because its contents concern Germany and its schools where in 1909 Miss Young and Miss Stratemeyer spent seven weeks traveling and studying together the school systems of Germany. At that time Miss Young gathered material on the drama and dramatics of Germany and wrote a report on this subject for which she received four credits toward her master's degree in speech and drama at Columbia university, New York City. Miss Stratemeyer gathered material for the book, and her efforts then and since have resulted in a book now used in Teachers' College, Columbia university and covering German education between 1918-1933.

Old Will Filed With Recorder

EZRA M. SAYRES WAS AN UNPREDICTABLE MAN, WILL SHOWS

A document that has interest for residents of Greencastle who remember the family of Alexander H. Martin, president of Asbury university from 1876 until 1889, inclusive, has just been placed on record in the office of the recorder of Putnam county. The document is the "last will and testament," written in 1897 with later codicils, of Ezra M. Sayres, of Waynesburg Borough, Pa., who was the wife of President Martin's son, Charles A. Martin. The latter, it will be remembered, received an injury of his back which compelled him to move about in a wheel chair, the remainder of his lifetime. Mrs. Charles A. Martin was Florence Adelaide Sayres, before her marriage.

Ezra M. Sayres' last will has been recorded in Putnam county to aid in preparing clear abstract of properties in Greencastle which were owned by Mr. Sayres.

Ezra M. Sayres, it is shown by the document, was an attorney at law. That he was of somewhat irascible temper and changeable mind is indicated by the attachment to the original will of seven codicils, in two of which he mentioned a total of $3,000 advanced to Mrs. Charles A. Martin, and in another of which he says he had charged $10,000 to his son Henry "in a hasty and inconsiderate manner and on reconsideration, believing it wrongfully made, I do remit and revoke the same".

In the preamble of the original will, made in 1897, he says "being by my age admonished to set my house in order," he is desirous to dispose of his property.

He makes a special bequest to his grandson, Ezra E. Martin, son of Florence Sayres Martin, of "my keyed flute." Ezra Edw. Martin and his older brother Clyde are both living in the west and have many friends here. The former's wife is the former Margaret Baker of this city.

"Lastly," says Mr. Sayres, "I commend my soul and body into the hands of Almighty God—hoping and trusting him for a peaceful home in a place where truth and righteousness alone are found and sorrow never comes."

The original will occupies less space in the record than is taken by the seven codicils and the various affidavits required from witnesses to the will and codicils, and such matters. The "prothonotary of the court of common pleas" of Waynesburg Borough, Pa., who attested to the signature of the "president Judge of the court of common pleas, orphans' court, and court of quarter sessions of the peace," at Waynesburg.
